chanel mini square flap bag with fake fur goes viral.

A FUR from a shopping bag that's designed to look like a fake fur has gone viral after it was featured on an Australian television program.

The flap was designed to look like a small bag and was made in Australia.

The bag, which has been around for over 100 years, is made in China and was cre ated by a Chinese man.

The fur itself was then cut and glued to the back of the bag.

It's made to look like a normal Fur.

It looks like the fur's fur was cut off but it's actually made of nylon instead of nylon, according to an Australian news report.

The fake fur was made using a special material known as a furpolyethylene Compo site Composite (FPC) that's made of polyethylene, PolyethylenepolyethylenePol
